

Pat Strange

President
Spire Marketing

As president of Spire Marketing, Pat believes the best way to serve all customers is to focus on the detailed needs of each customer.

Pat is responsible for leading all aspects of Spire's natural gas marketing and trading business. He brings almost three decades of experience in the post 636 environment of competition in the U.S. natural gas market. Prior to joining Spire Marketing, he has held key leadership roles at various companies including DTE Energy Trading, JP Morgan, Sequent Energy Management and Reliant Energy. Under his leadership each company grew natural gas trading while focusing on unique needs of each customer.

Pat earned a bachelor's degree in economics from Southeastern Louisiana University in 1989.
